

Headteacher: Mr B Berhane MEd

Deputy Headteacher: Mr Walton, BA (Hons)

The consultation for the federation of Roselands Infants and Stafford Junior Schools closed recently. Early next week the Governors of both schools will announce the outcome. Please do look out for a special letter in your child's school bag.

Secondly, we are pleased to let you know that to support our efforts in English and to improve our children's spellings, we have bought £1,000 worth of new dictionaries for children to use in class.

Thirdly, while our website is being moved to a more powerful server there may be some occasional blips; please bear with us during this process.

Finally, we look forward to seeing Year 6 parents/carers at consultation evenings next week. Please check your child's bag or call the school office if you have not yet received your confirmation.

LEARNING SPOTLIGHT

Next week the school will be focusing on internet safety, in line with Safer Internet Day on February 10th.

Increasingly, children are extending their friendships to include the online community; it is therefore advisable to control children's access to websites that you are not familiar with, to manage their on-line friendships and to review their communications on a regular basis. Please remind your child to think before they 'send' or 'share'. The children need to ask themselves – would I say this in front of my parents, carers or teachers. If not, perhaps it is best left unsaid.

There are a lot of excellent reasons why children should be using and exploring the internet:

- Information
- Learning
- Communicating with friends and family
- Playing games and
- Reading news, to name but a few.

For further information and advice, please log on to the UK Safer Internet Centre through the school website.
